At 4 p.m. on Friday 1 February, the first exhibition season of 2019 will be opened at Daugavpils Mark Rothko Art Center.

Six new art projects make up the new year's first exhibition season at Daugavpils Mark Rothko Art Center and will be open to the public from 1 February until 14 April, featuring such shows as "The Play of Light and Dark" by Inta Celmiņa and Edvards Grūbe, "Internal Uniformity" by Wang Shaojun, "Moments" by Belarusian watercolour painter Alexander Karpan and "Architecture in Painting" by Oļģerts Krauklis.

In addition, Pashmin Art Gallery from Germany has brought to Daugavpils a group show by 15 international artists on the topic "Beauty is Truth, Truth Beauty".

Finally, Romanian artists Ovidiu Leuce and Delia Maxim together with Pinar Baklan Önal from Turkey offer a joint exhibition project "Uguni" featuring artwork created on site in Daugavpils Fortress, in the framework of the Rothko Centre's residency program.

On 1 February, during the new season's opening event, all temporary exhibitions will be available free of charge.
